MODERATOR

Andrew Price

CEO, Scouts Canada

Andrew is a passionate executive and volunteer who has committed over 25 of service to people-centred organizations. As the Chief Executive Officer of Scouts Canada, he championed a number of transformations impacting safety culture. Andrew believes that safe spaces and safety culture not only reduce harm but also increase performance and mission impact. His passion for safety leadership has led him to contribute to the design and launch of the Responsible Coaching Movement. He is equally active internationally, co-leading a World Scouting project to enhance safeguarding leadership.

PANELISTS

Karri Dawson

Executive Director, Values-Based Sport, CCES & Executive Director, True Sport Foundation

Karri Dawson is the Executive Director of Values-Based Sport at the Canadian Centre for Ethics in Sport. Karri has managed corporate sponsorships, philanthropic donations, and community engagement programs at all levels of sport in Canada. Karri currently leads a diverse team that works to activate a values-based approach to sport through True Sport, examines ethical issues that threaten the integrity of sport, and develops education to support athletes and promote clean sport. Karri has been a member of the World Anti-Doping Agency's Education Committee and gives back to the domestic sport community through mentorship and volunteering workgroups and committees.

Mark Eckert

President and CEO, Volleyball Canada

Mark has more than 30 years of sport leadership experience with a focus on long-range organizational goals and strategic priorities. For the past 13 years, he has been the President and CEO of Volleyball Canada with the aim of both contributing to healthy communities and sustainable international results. Mark, who serves as the primary spokesperson for Volleyball Canada, is also responsible for maintaining and boosting domestic and international relations for the organization. This has been demonstrated in his collaborative efforts with Canadian Olympic Committee, NORCECA, FIVB, Sport Canada and other partners.

Imane Moglia Euchi

Development Advisor & Facilitator of the animation of the community of certified coaches, Pour 3 Points

Imane is a former competitive basketball player and has been coaching for over 10 years. Her career as an athlete and coach has led her to get involved in the world of sport, both on and off the court. A member of the Big Sisters of Sports Coalition and development advisor for the organization Pour 3 Points, she actively works toward the creation of a healthy and safe sport environment in Quebec for all youth.
